

Aid Live Foundation's programs reach 65,000 Venezuelans.

The Aid Live Foundation has established three new partnerships to develop programs to mitigate the humanitarian emergency in Venezuela and the refugee crisis in Colombia. The main focus areas are medical care, food security and nutritional supplements, the prevention of maternal and neonatal mortality, and psychosocial health. Investments of $540,000 into these three new programs in 2019 and 2020 will impact more than 4,000 beneficiaries directly and 10,000 indirectly.

In Venezuela:

The "Family that is born, Family that grows" program will provide comprehensive health and hygiene support, including medicine and pediatrics for 3,000 (direct) and 7,000 (indirect), children in vulnerable conditions and exposed to endemic diseases.

Meanwhile the "Feeding the future" program will provide food and nutritional support for 550 (direct), 2,500 (indirect) children through strengthening a network of mothers that will manage the collection, preparation and distribution of food in Venezuela.

In Colombia:

540 Venezuelan women affected by the immigration crisis in Cartagena will benefit from the "Reorientation of life" project, a collaboration between the Juan Felipe

Gómez Escobar Foundation (La Juanfe) and the Aid Live Foundation, the program will provide gynaecology services, family planning advice, psychosocial support focused on migratory affliction, and nutritional supplements for these women and their children 1,200. It will also provide safe food sources for the community.

In parallel, the Aid Live Foundation continues to provide technical assistance to its first two programs: "Stay in school", in partnership with Share for a Living Colombia (Cúcuta) and "Walking the hope, we walk without border" (Venezuela), which provides nutritional support and access to drinking water for more than 6,500 people.

With these three new programmes, the Aid Live Foundation has invested $900,000 USD in total. Further investments are planned in the coming months through new partnerships both in Venezuela and for Venezuelan refugees in Colombia. The five programs receiving technical and financial support from the Aid Live Foundation will directly benefit 14,000 Venezuelans, and 45,000 Venezuelans indirectly, over 2019 and 2020.

Aid Live Foundation is a second level non-profit organization created to promote the integral development and well-being of Venezuelans in Venezuela and Venezuelan refugees in Colombia.

Aid Live Foundation implements and measures the impact of the programs it undertakes or supports, cofinances high impact projects and generates scalable results by partnering with other organizations, companies and institutions.
